Dear Mr. Edwards,

Thank you for your assistance in developing the Archives of Ontario's tagline – Building Ontario's Memory -- for our move to a new public service facility in 2009. We have used this slogan in all of our published material associated with the move and it was used as the inspiration for the visual identity created for the move.

I strongly feel that the tagline you developed for the Archives of Ontario has been an important asset in our communications to the general public about the Archives' move. It has set the tone for not only the project itself but the importance the Archives of Ontario plays in preserving the documentary heritage of our province.

Sincerely,

Lisa Singer
